Independent Auditor's Report

To the Board of Directors of Community Living Dryden-Sioux Lookout:

Qualified Opinion

We have audited the accompanying non-consolidated financial statements of Community Living Dryden-Sioux Lookout (the "Organization"), which comprise the non-consolidated statement of financial position as at March 31, 2025 and the non-consolidated statements of operations, changes in net assets and cash flows for the year then ended, and notes to the non-consolidated financial statements, including a summary of significant accounting policies.

In our opinion, except for the effects of the matters described in the Basis for Qualified Opinion section of our report, the accompanying non-consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the financial position of Community Living Dryden-Sioux Lookout as at March 31, 2025, and its results of operations and its cash flows for the year then ended in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Basis for Qualified Opinion

Accumulated vacation pay is not accrued as a liability in the non-consolidated financial statements of the Organization as it is not an eligible expense for purposes of the Ministry of Children, Community and Social Services. Under Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, the liability with respect to vacation pay should be accrued and recorded as it is earned. If the accumulated vacation pay had been recorded, it would have resulted in an decrease to the excess of revenue over expenses for the year ended March 31, 2025 of $6,716, a decrease to the excess of revenue over expenses for the year ended March 31, 2024 of $25,928, an increase to liabilities as at March 31, 2025 of $331,107, an increase to liabilities as at March 31, 2024 of $337,823, a decrease to net assets as at March 31, 2025 of $331,107 and a decrease to net assets as at March 31, 2024 of $337,823. The audit opinion on the non-consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2024 was modified accordingly because of the effects of this departure from Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

In common with many charitable organizations, the Organization derives revenue from donations, the completeness of which is not susceptible of satisfactory audit verification. Accordingly, our verification of these revenues was limited to the amounts recorded in the records of the Organization. Therefore, we were not able to determine whether any adjustments might be necessary to donation revenues, excess of revenue over expenses, and cash flows from operations for the years ended March 31, 2025 and 2024, current assets as at March 31, 2025 and 2024, and net assets as at April 1 and March 31 for both the 2025 and 2024 years. The audit opinion on the non-consolidated financial statements for the year ended March 31, 2024, was modified accordingly because of the possible effects of this limitation in scope.

We conducted our audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards. Our responsibilities under those standards are further described in the Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Non-Consolidated Financial Statements section of our report. We are independent of the Organization in accordance with the ethical requirements that are relevant to our audit of the non-consolidated financial statements in Canada, and we have fulfilled our other ethical responsibilities in accordance with these requirements. We believe that the audit evidence we have obtained is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion.

Other Matter

The non-consolidated financial statement for the year ended March 31, 2024 were audited by another auditor who expressed an unmodified opinion on those statements on July 29, 2024 for the reasons described in the basis for qualified opinion section of the report.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Non-Consolidated Financial Statements

Management is responsible for the preparation and fair presentation of the non-consolidated financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of non-consolidated financial statements that are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the non-consolidated financial statements, management is responsible for assessing the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the Organization or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the Organization's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Non-Consolidated Financial Statements

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the non-consolidated financial statements as a whole are free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of these non-consolidated financial statements.

As part of an audit in accordance with Canadian generally accepted auditing standards, we exercise professional judgment and maintain professional skepticism throughout the audit. We also:

- Identify and assess the risks of material misstatement of the non-consolidated financial statements, whether due to fraud or error, design and perform audit procedures responsive to those risks, and obtain audit evidence that is sufficient and appropriate to provide a basis for our opinion. The risk of not detecting a material misstatement resulting from fraud is higher than for one resulting from error, as fraud may involve collusion, forgery, intentional omissions, misrepresentations, or the override of internal control.
- Obtain an understanding of internal control relevant to the audit in order to design audit procedures that are appropriate in the circumstances, but not for the purpose of expressing an opinion on the effectiveness of the Organization's internal control.
- Evaluate the appropriateness of accounting policies used and the reasonableness of accounting estimates and related disclosures made by management.

- Conclude on the appropriateness of management's use of the going concern basis of accounting and, based on the audit evidence obtained, whether a material uncertainty exists related to events or conditions that may cast significant doubt on the Organization's ability to continue as a going concern. If we conclude that a material uncertainty exists, we are required to draw attention in our auditor's report to the related disclosures in the non-consolidated financial statements or, if such disclosures are inadequate, to modify our opinion. Our conclusions are based on the audit evidence obtained up to the date of our auditor's report. However, future events or conditions may cause the Organization to cease to continue as a going concern.
- Evaluate the overall presentation, structure and content of the non-consolidated financial statements, including the disclosures, and whether the non-consolidated financial statements represent the underlying transactions and events in a manner that achieves fair presentation.

We communicate with those charged with governance regarding, among other matters, the planned scope and timing of the audit and significant audit findings, including any significant deficiencies in internal control that we identify during our audit.

Notes to Non-Consolidated Financial Statements

March 31, 2025

1. Significant Accounting Policies

Nature and Purpose of Organization

Community Living Dryden-Sioux Lookout is a registered charity, incorporated under the Province of Ontario Corporations Act without share capital and a registered charity under the Income Tax Act. The Organization is governed by a voluntary elected Board of Directors whose mission is to serve the needs of adults who have a developmental disability in Dryden, Sioux Lookout and the surrounding area.

Charitable Institution

The Organization is a registered Canadian Charitable Institution (#106720436RR0001) and, as such, is not required to file federal or provincial income tax returns.

Basis of Accounting

These non-consolidated financial statements have been prepared in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations.

Description of Funds

Operating Fund

The Operating Fund consists of the ongoing operations and one-time funding programs funded by various agencies for specific projects required to be completed within a designated time frame.

Board Fund

The Board Fund consists of money available for use at the specific direction of the Board of Directors and is not available to fund the general operations of Community Living Dryden-Sioux Lookout without specific board approval.

Revenue Recognition

The Organization follows the deferral method of accounting for contributions. Restricted contributions are recognized as revenue in the year in which the related expenses are incurred. Unrestricted contributions are recognized as revenue when received or receivable if the amount to be received can be reasonably estimated and collection is reasonably assured.

Revenue from general donations is recorded on a cash basis as received. All other revenue, including rental income, is recorded on an accrual basis as earned.

Restricted contributions for the purchase of tangible capital assets that will be amortized are deferred and recognized as revenue on the same basis as the amortization expense related to the acquired tangible capital asset.

Notes to Non-Consolidated Financial Statements

March 31, 2025

1. Significant Accounting Policies (cont'd)

Investment in subsidiary

The Organization accounts for its wholly-owned investment in its private subsidiary, 1000661215 Ontario Inc., using the equity method.

This profit-oriented enterprise is not consolidated in the Organization's financial statements.

Tangible Capital Assets

Tangible capital assets are recorded at cost less accumulated amortization. Contributed tangible capital assets are recorded at fair value at the date of contribution and are amortized, unless fair value is not determinable in which case contributed tangible capital assets are recorded at nominal value at the date of contribution. Expenses for repairs and maintenance are expensed as incurred. Betterments that extend the useful life of tangible capital assets are capitalized.

Amortization is calculated on a straight-line basis over the estimated useful life of the asset. Estimated useful lives are as follows:

Computer software	-	1	year
Computers	-	3	years
Furniture and equipment	-	5	years
Office equipment	-	5	years
Leasehold improvements	-	15	years
Automotive equipment	-	7	years
Paving and sheds	-	10	years
Buildings	-	20	years

When tangible capital assets no longer has any long-term service potential to the Organization, the excess of its net carrying amount over any residual value is recognized as an expense in the statement of operations. Any unamortized deferred contribution amount related to the tangible capital asset is recognized in revenue in the statement of operations, provided that all restrictions have been complied with.

When a tangible capital asset is disposed of, the difference between the net proceeds on disposition and the net carrying amount is recognized in the non-consolidated statement of operations. Any unamortized deferred contribution amount related to the tangible capital asset disposed of is recognized in revenue in the non-consolidated statement of operations, provided that all restrictions have been complied with.

1. Significant Accounting Policies (cont'd)

Deferred Revenue

The Organization is the recipient of certain approved program grants which specify project purpose, maximum allowable contributions and are for specific time periods. Unexpended funds are included on the statement of financial position as cash and deferred revenue until the programs are completed. At the completion of the program, unexpended funds are returned to the funding agency. Funds expended in excess of allowable grants must be provided from general funds.

Financial Instruments

Financial instruments are recorded at fair value when acquired or issued. All financial instruments are reported at cost or amortized cost less impairment, if applicable. Financial assets are tested for impairment when changes in circumstances indicate the asset could be impaired. Transaction costs on the acquisition, sale or issue of financial instruments are expensed for those items remeasured at fair value at each non-consolidated statement of financial position date and charged to the financial instrument for those measured at amortized cost.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of non-consolidated financial statements in accordance with Canadian accounting standards for not-for-profit organizations requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the non-consolidated financial statements, and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from management's best estimates as additional information becomes available in the future. Significant estimates in these non-consolidated financial statements include the estimated useful lives of tangible capital assets and accruals.

12. Economic Dependence

The Organization derives a significant portion of its operating revenue from the Ministry of Children, Community and Social Services. The continued operation of the major programs of the Organization is dependent upon this funding.

13. Financial Instrument Risk

Interest Rate Risk

Interest rate risk is the risk that the fair value or future cash flows of a financial instrument will fluctuate because of changes in market interest rates. The Organization is subject to interest rate risk on its line of credit as the interest rate is variable. It is management's opinion that the Organization is not exposed to significant interest rate risk on the line of credit as it was not used during the year. There have not been any changes in risk from the prior year.

Credit Risk

Credit risk is the risk of financial loss to the Organization if a customer or counter-party to a financial instrument fails to meet its contractual obligations, and arises principally from the Organization's receivables. The majority of the Organization's receivables are from government sources and the Organization works to ensure they meet all eligibility criteria in order to qualify to receive funding, therefore the Organization does not believe it is subject to any significant concentrations of credit risk related to accounts receivable. The Organization is subject to credit risk on excess deposits over the amount not covered by the Canada Deposit Insurance Corporation (CDIC). There have not been any changes in risk from the prior year.

Liquidity Risk

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Organization encounters difficulty in meeting its obligations associated with financial liabilities. Liquidity risk includes risk that, as a result of operational liquidity requirements, the Organization will not have sufficient funds to settle a transaction on the due date; will be forced to sell financial assets at a value which is less than what they are worth; or may be unable to settle or recover a financial asset. Liquidity risk arises from accounts payable and accrued liabilities and long-term debt. Management is of the opinion that they are not exposed to significant liquidity risk. There have not been any changes in risk from the prior year.
